DR. JENKINS TO BE PASTOR.

Accepts the Call of the Hopkinsville Baptist Church.

GENERAL REJOICING.

Has Few Equals in the Entire South as Preacher and Pastor.

Dr. Millard A. Jenkins has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Baptist church.

His acceptance came Saturday morning in a telegram to Mr. J. H. Anderson, which read as follows:

DUBLIN, GA., OCT. 27.

MR. J. H. ANDERSON: "RUTH 1:16. GOD BLESS THE UNION. LETTER FOLLOWS. MILLARD A. JENKINS."

Dr. Jenkins was called by the unanimous vote of the church on Sept. 5, and his acceptance has been in doubt up to the time he ended the suspense. On the last Sunday in September Dr. Jenkins visited the church and preached several times and the entire membership was more than pleased with him as a man and preacher. His acceptance was delayed by other calls, that proved very perplexing. One was in Baltimore, one in Roanoke, Va., and there were two or three elsewhere. The local church put forth a united and most determined effort, and their success in securing the much-sought after pastor causes universal delight. Dr. Jenkins is widower without children, is about 35 years of age and was pastor of a church at Dublin, Ga.

The new pastor possesses unusual graces and gifts as a pulpit orator and has had much experience as a successful evangelist.

He is the fourth pastor the church has had in nearly half a century. Rev. T. G. Keen, D. D., was pastor for more than 20 years prior to 1887. Rev. J. N. Prestridge, D. D., was pastor from 1887 to 1890 and Rev. Chas. H. Nash, D. D., filled the pulpit from June, 1890, to Sept. 1, 1906.

The church has a stone house of worship, worth $40,000, and a membership of between 600 and 700. The salary is $2,500.

In his letter Dr. Jenkins writes that he is engaged this week in a meeting at Macon and cannot come before the second Sunday in November and it may be not until the third Sunday. He will begin a revival meeting here immediately on his arrival.

Rev. R. L. Baker.

Rev. R. L. Baker, the popular young pastor of Salem church, preached at the Baptist church Sunday night. It was his first appearance before a Hopkinsville congregation and favorable comment on his sermon was general. Dr. Baker was formerly an evangelist in the mountains.

CLARLES FINCH

Taken to the Pen, Along With Porter Dabney.

Sheriff Smith, on Sunday, took Porter Dabney and Charles Finch, negroes, to the branch penitentiary at Eddyville. Dabney was convicted at the recent term of court of obtaining money under false pretenses and given one year. Finch is one of the eight negroes convicted of complicity in the murder of an unknown white man near Pembroke nearly three years ago. At his first trial he was given the death penalty. He obtained a new hearing and at the second trial he was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. He appealed and the appellate court affirmed the judgment.

Of the nine negroes arrested, charged with the crime, seven were given life sentences, one, George Holland, was hanged July 7, 1905, and the ninth man, Ed Moseley, who turned State's evidence, was turned loose.

COURT ADJOURNS.

Fall Term Came to a Close Saturday Morning.

The Fall term of Circuit court came to a close Saturday morning, after a session of five weeks. A number of cases were continued until the spring term. Equity cases consumed the last few days of the term.

In the case of Mrs. Fannie Hille against the Hopkinsville Sewerage Co., in which plaintiff recovered judgment for $160, defendant's motion for a new trial was overruled.

A new trial of the case in which J. E. Mabry was awarded a judgment against the city of Hopkinsville for $280 for alleged damage by overflow, was refused, and the city will take an appeal.

Miss Ella Rickman was sworn in as an examiner in and for Christian county. Miss Rickman will office with C. O. Prowse in his law office.

PROMINENT FARMER

Mr. Clardy was seventy six years old and a brother of Dr. J. D. Clardy, of Newstead. He is survived by his widow and eight children. Deceased had long been a member of Locust Grove Baptist church and was a most excellent man, liked by every one, and in his demise that neighborhood has lost one of its best citizens. THE POPE AND SPAIN

TROUBLE SAID TO BE BREWING BETWEEN THE TWO.

Unless Reduction in Clerical Budget Is Obtained from Vatican Rupture Is Likely to Take Place.

The struggle which the Vatican has been carrying on with France has resulted in many of the exiled orders taking refuge in Spain and this has created a condition of affairs there that has brought the question of the relations of the Vatican to the church in Spain to a climax, so that there seems to be no doubt that, unless the present government of Spain can succeed in inducing the Vatican to accept a reduction of some $200,000 in the clerical budget and acknowledge the regularity of the civil marriage, a rupture will take place between Madrid and Rome which may even lead to the denunciation of the Concordat of 1851. In the meantime, the cardinal primate of Spain, Mgr. Sanchez, archbishop of Toledo, is doing his best to effect an understanding by reminding the government of the obligations for moral support both monarchy and dynasty are under, and seeking to impress upon the Roman curia the necessity of making certain concessions toward the liberal movement in Spain.

The problem to be solved is really more of a financial and a social than a religious one. The financial side is aggravated from three sources. The money which the government pays outright to the clergy, the expense to the country at large of the thousands of monks and friars who have established themselves after being driven out of France, and founded schools and colleges for boys and girls, and the immense amount of treasure which the Vatican annually takes out of the country—however high may be the exchange from paper money into gold, in gold the Vatican is paid, and the tithes which it gathers from all sources in Spain are said to represent annually some $5,000,000.

The state spends annually for the church some 41,000,000 pesetas, or $8,200,000. According to the latest statistics, the total number of religious communities throughout the country is 3,115, containing 50,333 members. Of these, 2,586 communities are for women, with 40,188 members, and 529 for men, with 15,145 members. The number of those which sought and obtained registration by the government was 2,611, the registration being of a permanent and definite character. In the case of 1,201, and of a provisional kind for 1,410. Registration was temporarily withheld in the case of 150, pending further examination of their titles and description. Of the 354 which remain, the greater part are orders of the Concordat and exempt from registration.

Of the 41,000,000 pesetas paid by the state to the church, about $5,000,000 is devoted to the payment of income; $750,000 to building, maintenance, and repair of churches; $250,000 is devoted for religious seminaries; and some $25,000 is allotted to religious congregations, cloistered nuns, and others. The sum of a little over $1,000,000 is divided among the higher clergy, leaving less than $1,000,000 for the ordinary priesthood. As the latter must number considerably over 20,000, the average income of the secular priest cannot be more than $50.

Nor does there seem to be much more margin for economy in the salaries paid to the superior clergy. There are nine archbishops, whose incomes range from $5,000 to $55,000; there are 51 bishops who receive from $5,500 to $20,000; there are 50 deans and 500 canons, whose average yearly income is less than $1,500. But even out of this poverty the Spanish church contrived to donate to the government last year $750,000. Year after year the native orders and their French guests barely make a living; the village curate starves; the towers of Gothic Cathedral crumble and fall for the want of timely repair; and the country, which has so long regarded such matters with indifference, is beginning, especially the liberal, progressive part of it, to be disgusted with the whole question of religious dominance.

Quite Important Side Issue.

The British government gets an income of $25,000,000 from the railways, river boats and forests of India.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

An Interesting History of One of the Most Popular Household Remedies.

USED IN THE EARLY AGES.

From the dim dawn of antiquity, the peoples of the earth have utilized the twigs and leaves of the camphor tree as a potent factor in relieving and healing the many ills which the human flesh is heir to. In the early stages of civilization the heathens used camphor in a crude form, and through centuries that have passed it has come down to succeeding ages, a refined medicine. The natives of the far east anointed their bodies with this product as one of the first and most simple remedies. From time to time camphor has been combined with other chemical compounds and used for the treatment of both external and internal ailments, though its chief virtue is as an external preparation.

KNOWN TO OUR GRANDMOTHERS.

The simplest form, and that best known to all of us—that familiar friend and companion of our childhood, with which our grandmothers so affectionately caressed our pains and aches, is whiskey and camphor. The old camphor bottle revives in our fancy the happiest recollection of our childhood's home, when care was an undiscovered country and the world was a vast playground created for our own amusement.

DEVELOPED BY A SCOTCH PHYSICIAN.

It remained, however, for a distinguished Scotch physician and chemist to develop the most effective medicinal combination, with camphor as a basis. While acting as Pathologist of the Royal Infirmary and stationed in the Indies, in the year 1876, this chemist had occasion to investigate, from a scientific viewpoint, the effect of a solution of kerosene steeped in sandal-wood twigs used by the natives of that country to counteract the ravages of a plague. When he returned to the city of Glasgow, Scotland, and while connected with the Andersonian College and the Royal Infirmary of Physicians of that city, he engaged in an extensive series of experiments along the line of the secret solution used by these natives.

PERFECTED IN THE UNITED STATES.

After years of toil, pursued in many countries and many climes, in the year 1892, when a citizen and resident of the United States of America, he perfected a solution of essential oils which he called PARACAMP, and which is a revolution in the treatment of external injuries. Thus has the wisdom of the East combined with the progressiveness and activity of the West, giving to the world its greatest healing remedy.

We do not hesitate to guarantee Paracamp to cure Rheumatism, Swelling, Neuralgia, Catarrh, Throat Troubles, Eczema, Tetter and Itching or Bleeding Piles, because many of our customers report to us daily that they have been cured by its use and because we know Paracamp will do exactly what we claim for it. Paracamp is a clean, safe, household remedy which every family needs every day in the year. It is truly a First Aid to the Injured and if you have not used it try Paracamp to-day on our guarantee to return money if it fails to do what we claim for it.—The Paracamp Company, Louisville, Ky., U. S. A.

SOMETHING NEW IN "HOMES."

Glasgow, Scotland, "Has Shelter" for Widowers with Children.

In some industrial quarters it has been suggested that the London county council should carry its schemes for housing necessitous
a step farther and provide houses for widowers with children.

The proposal, however, is not a novel one. Such a municipal scheme has been in operation at Glasgow for the last ten years. It is worked in conjunction with the corporation model lodging houses, and the slight loss on the "family houses," as it is called, is made up by the surplus on the "homes."

The Glasgow building is a large one, with about 160 bedrooms, splendid kitchen accommodation, a great dining hall, recreation rooms for adults and children, and reading room and library, a room for meetings and entertainments, a crèche, and a spacious playground. It is in reality a place of shelter for respectable men of industrious habits who are willing to submit to formal discipline and to have their children attended to during hours of employment, or if they are helpless little tots, nursed under trained superintendence.

Each sleeping room is designed to accommodate one adult and three children. The rate per room to men is 3s 6d per week; for a father with one child 4s 2d; for a father with two children 4s 10d—3s 6d

for the parent and 8d for each child; and there is a charge of 8d per week additional for each child accommodated in a separate dormitory. The charges for board are on a restaurant principle, averaging 1d a meal for adults. For children the board charges are: 1d 10d per week for a single child; 1s 7d for two in one family; and 1s 4d

each for three in one family.—

BELFRY HALF A MILE AWAY.

Tower in One English Village, Church

in Another.

It is generally supposed that the village church of East Bengbott, Suffolk, is the only one in England which possesses an entirely distinct building for its belfry. The bells of this church are hung in a shed many yards away from the church, and are worked from above instead of from beneath.

The church of Warmworth, however, a village situated about two miles from Doncaster, can boast of a belfry which is about half a mile away from the church. As the crow flies the distance between church and belfry, which is known as Bell Tower, is 2,350 feet, the distance by road being about half a mile.

The belfry is by no means a makeshift building. The tower, in fact, is said to date back to the twelfth century, and the reason of its isolation forms a rather curious story. The church was originally built on its present site to accommodate the villagers of both Warm-worth and Baby, the latter village being half a mile from the former.

The tower was then placed in Warmworth in order that the parishioners might hear the bell, which stops ringing a quarter of an hour before the service in order to enable the bell ringer to get to the church in time.

Paint Which Lasts

Painters, and all others
who understand paint, know that white lead and linseed oil make the best paint. Good, lasting paint cannot be had if either pigment or oil is adulterated.

Many of the so-called white leads sold now-a-days have barytes, rock-

white lead.

Linseed oil is also fre-

IN SIXTY-FIRST YEAR.

Death Due to Inflammation
of Stomach and Bowels.

Mrs. Ed. H. Price died yesterday morning at her home on South Liberty street, in her 61st year.

The end was not unexpected, as she had been in failing health for several months and confined to her bed for six weeks or more. The immediate cause of her death was inflammation of the stomach and bowels.

Susan J. Phaup and Edward H. Price were married April 12, 1867, and have resided in Hopkinsville most, if not all, of their married life. The deceased was a native of Providence, Tenn., and was a daughter of Mr. Ben Phaup. She is survived by her husband and five daughters: Mrs. Lillie Belle Smith and Mrs. Emma Lee Longwell, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Geo. Randle and Mrs. Hayward Richards and Miss Allie May Price, of this city; two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Hall, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Sarah Howard, of Island, and one brother, Mr. James Phaup, of the same place.

Mrs. Price in her youth united with the Baptist church, but after her marriage to Mr. Price became a member of the Christian church to be with her husband. She was patient during her illness and was prepared for the time when she was called up higher. Her whole life was given to the care of her children and doing good for all with whom she came in contact. Her faith was beautiful, and the only sorrow that clouded her last days was the thought of having to leave those who were so dear to her.

Funeral services will take place at the residence at 2 p. m. today. Interment in Hopewell.

Death of David Henderson.

David Henderson, a highly respected citizen of the Pilot Rock neighborhood, died Tuesday of pneumonia, aged about sixty years. The interment took place at the Ebenezer burying ground, near his home. —Fairview Review.

DEATH OF MRS. MOSS.

Passes Away at Home of Daughter in Paducah.

LaFayette, Ky., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Ritta Moss, widow of Meek Moss, died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dismukes, in Paducah. Mrs. Moss went from this neighborhood to Paducah last Spring to reside with her daughter. She was 77 years old, and a most excellent Christian woman, having been a member of the Methodist church for many years. She leaves many relatives and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

The remains were brought here this afternoon and the interment took place in the Clardy burying ground, services being held at the grave.

Letter from Marie Glader.

Dr. Huber, of this city, has received a letter from Miss Marie Glader, the victim of the Fletcher crowd, who with her father, is living at Lady-smith, Wis. The letter in part is as follows:

"Father and I will never forget what you and the dear people of Russellville have done for us while we had to stay there during the trials. Of course you gave the good people there our thanks, because you promised to do so. Many thanks for it yet. We are glad to hear those soundrels will get the reward of their bad doings, and we will be on hand to attend the occasion if you say the dear old Russellville folks want us to be there. We are in great debt to all the folks down there, and we think it sponging on the good people. I for my part would like to see all the honorable gentlemen of the court again and shake hands, also our other friends, though we are in great debt to all, and think it not right to put them in more expense. We have nothing to spare, but if you come to take us back we'll go to see the dogs hang."

"FIGHTING BEFORE LADIES."

The Hon. Thomas Sharkey, refereeing a lightweight bout at the Englewood carnival, rebuked a too energetic pugilist. "Remember," he said, severely, "you are fighting before ladies."

The refining influence of women upon all conflicts, from polo to politics, is a pleasant theory. A greater man than Sharkey once disputed it. Telling how the wife of an opponent had been admitted to a famous ring side, he said: "Refin' influence of woman, huh! I'd got him good an' licked when she sings out: 'Give it to him!' an' in less'n a minute he'd spiked me in the shin."

Women watched the fiercest jousts of helmeted knights in the days of chivalry, when broken necks were not uncommon. They witnessed the combats of gladiators, as they still do the bullfights in Spain and Mexico. They joy in the hot fights of the football field, a more prolific source of injury than the prize ring. Women are the cause of most private warfare, as land is the cause of most national warfare.

PORTUGUESE FARMERS.

Saviors of Portugal are Portugal's new farmers. In the south of the little kingdom a serious attempt is being made to reclaim about 10,000,000 acres, or 44 per cent. of the total area of Portugal. Some energetic people, in combination with the municipal authorities, have set to work in the district of Serpa upon 100,000 acres, dividing it into allotments of 15 acres each and letting it at a nominal rent, calculated according to the estimated value of the land. The highest quit rent is $3.20 and the lowest 40 cents per allotment, free of local taxes and rates for ten years. A heterogeneous mixture of settlers already has taken possession of their tenements. Carpenters, masons, doctors, chemists, barbers, seamstresses, tailors and beggars figure in the motley crowd. The success of the scheme, as far as it has gone, has stirred the ambition of the residents in a large part of the north of Portugal, where a project on similar lines is being set on foot to bring back into cultivation something like half a million of acres.

AIRSHIP ELOPEMENT.

As the eloping couple soared above the building the old man rushed out and shook his fist at the airship.

"You scamps," he bellowed, rushing to the sled where he kept his own airship. "I'll catch up with you. I shall be flying in a second."

"Do calm yourself, pa," called the girl, as she threw a kiss to her irate sire; "regain your temper before you start in pursuit."

"This made the old gentleman furious."

"Regain my temper!" he thundered. "Why should I regain my temper?"

"Because it is not good for you to fly in a passion."

And then the elopers faded away in the clouds.

LESSONS IN ETIQUETTE.

Priscilla had, unknown to her mother, paid a visit to one of her small friends, and on her return Mrs. Parsons was disturbed to note the soiled dress her child wore.

"Priscilla, do you see that big spot? What do you suppose Mrs. Blakeslee thought of such a dirty dress?" she asked.

"I don't know," was Priscilla's prompt reply. "If Mrs. Blakeslee saw it she was too polite to mention it."—Harper's Weekly.

Tomorrow.

Ceremony Will Take Place
In St. George's Chapel.

Mr. John B. Howe, of Nashville, and Miss Laura Barbour, of Louisville, will be married in St. George's Chapel, London, England, tomorrow. The bride is a highly accomplished and beautiful young lady, and has been in London a short time. The groom is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Howe, now of Nashville.

All of Mr. Howe's six children were born in Hopkinsville, though they were small when he moved his family to Nashville. He has four sons and two daughters, all married except John. Bertram Howe was married September 5 last and he and his bride have been touring the continent. They went from Rome to London to be present at the marriage ceremony.

The groom has been in Paris for a while and the arrangement was for the ceremony to take place in that city, but, in deference to the wishes of his fiancée, he went to London for the celebration of the nuptials.

After the ceremony the happy couple will make a tour of Europe, returning to this country about the 10th or 15th of December and take up their residence in Nashville, where Mr. Howe is in the ice business with his father. The family has scores of friends in Hopkinsville who wish the young couple the fulfillment of their fondest dreams of future happiness.

SUNDAY WEDDING

Took Place in the Parlor of the Methodist Parsonage.

Dr. A. P. Lyon, pastor of the Methodist church, was unexpectedly called upon to marry a couple last Sunday morning, and failed to get to Sunday school on time. Mr. Robert C. Mason and Miss Eva Barlow drove up to the parsonage gate and requested the Doctor to tie the nuptial knot as they were seated in the buggy. Dr. Lyon, however, invited them to go into the parsonage parlor which they did, and after Dr. Lyon had secured the necessary witnesses they were pronounced man and wife.

The bride and groom are attaches of the asylum and are very popular.
